The B.C. premier made the statement in reply to a reporter's question about Saskatchewan Premier Woodrow S. Lloyd's statement in Regina expressing grave concern about the effects of the prairies of B.C.'s Columbia River power development.

"It is B.C.'s development," said Mr. Bennett. "That NDP government in Saskatchewan had better be told to keep its cotton-picking hands off our resources."

Ottawa and BC Now in Accord Over Columbia

HEARS LOST NO EXCUSE

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Andrew P. Leacy, Jackson County jury commissioner, recently sent out a questionnaire. Among the replies was this one:

"I do not want to serve on a jury because I have completely lost the heat on my head, and serving would cause the great embarrassment."

Leacy said he sympathized, but he ruled it was not an adequate excuse.

Lumber Strike May Grow

RICHMOND, Wash. (AP) — Leaders of two striking unions hinted here Tuesday the Pacific Northwest lumber industry strike would begin spreading shortly.

End of the two-week summer vacation next week likely will signal further extension, said Harvey Nelson, regional president of the International Woodworkers of America.

He and Earl Hartley, executive secretary of the Western Conference of the Lumber and Sawmill Workers Union, were here to lead delegates of the Washington State Labor Council convention on the month-old dispute that already has closed six firms and thrown 20,000 men out of work.

TO MONTANA
Hartley said 1,000 employees of the St. Regis Paper Co. walked off at the firm's lobby, Mont., plants Tuesday and another 400 would strike at the firm's plant in Kilkist, Wash., within "a day or two."

"We're going on an all-out basis," said Hartley.

"They're going to lick us or we're going to lick them. That means that the entire lumber industry, if we don't lick them, is going to be down in a very short time."

Soviet Succeed In Rocket Firing

LONDON (Reuters) — Russia has carried out successful launches of improved types of carrier rockets for space purposes, Tass news agency said today.

The rockets were launched in the central Pacific this month and in June, Tass said.

Tass said the flight of the rockets and the operation of all their systems was "in exact accordance" with the pre-set program.

Woman For Trial In Beer Bottle Murder

LINDSAY, Ont. (CP) — Mrs. Helen Margaret Deyell, 33, of Lindsay was committed Tuesday for trial on a charge of capital murder in the bludgeoning death of Harold Gate, 76, a Lindsay shoemaker. Cpl. William Baluk of Cobourg provincial police said fingerprints on three empty beer bottles in the Gate home matched those of Mrs. Deyell. Medical reports showed Mr. Gate had received more than 15 blows.

He turned around and looked at his wife and children.

ON-TRAIN WORKERS BALK JFK's Rail Plan Spurned

WASHINGTON (AP) — On-train workers turned down today President Kennedy's proposal to let U.S. Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg arbitrate the work rules dispute that threatens a midnight nationwide rail strike.

The carriers accepted the presidential plan.

While the operating unions rejected the proposal, they told Kennedy they "most seriously join you in seeking some alternative method of settlement that will preserve the principles of free collective bargaining."

A management spokesman said it was reasonable to expect there would be a suggestion which might head off a strike.

The chief spokesman for management, J. E. Wolfe, told reporters that Kennedy "expects to contact us later today."

It was he who said it was reasonable to believe some further step was in contemplation which might avoid the scheduled walkout.

The stoppage is planned for 12:01 a.m. local time Thursday, the time at which management plans to put into effect work rules changes that would cut out some 40,000 firemen's jobs and perhaps 25,000 more workers.

DELIVER LETTER
A letter delivered to Kennedy by the union leaders added: "We hope that you can suggest some other method than the one procedure we cannot accept as a matter of decent principle, which will act to prevent the railroads from proceeding in their drastic changes in rules, wages and working conditions without agreement."

The union leaders said they had given Kennedy's arbitration proposal "most careful attention and consideration" and they "fully realize the seriousness of the situation."

They said further that they were being asked to agree to a procedure which they believe could pave the way for future "compulsory arbitration by custom or practice."

The railroads made their announcement of acceptance of the arbitration plan orally.

"The carriers accept," a spokesman said.

Opposition Takes Aim At Re-Vamped Budget

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government's latest budget resolution ran into fresh attacks from the Conservative opposition in the Commons Tuesday.

The political dogfight also continued over revamping of the Atlantic Development Board — created by the former Conservative government.

These developments occurred.

Opposition Leader Diefenbaker during Tuesday's question period estimated sales tax "windfalls" to wholesalers at $350,000 daily since the tax was imposed June 14 on construction materials and production machinery.

Mr. Gordon Monday night changed the application of the tax so that only four per cent falls due on a revised list of items up to next March 31.

Mr. Gordon said he doesn't accept the Diefenbaker proposal for a moment.

The Commons gave second reading approval in principle to the Atlantic Development Board Act amending legislation.

Today, the Commons continues with detailed clause-by-clause study of the bill, amid firm indications that the Conservatives plan at least three amendments and probably more.

Adenauer's Aide Termed An Eichmann

BERLIN (AP) — Israeli lawyer Michael Landau declared in Communist East Germany's Supreme Court today that Hans Globke, chief aide of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany, was as guilty as Adolf Eichmann in the extermination of 6,000,000 Jews in the Second World War.

Landau testified as spokesman for the Israeli Association of Anti-Nazi Fighters and Victims of Nazism in the third day of Globke's trial in absentia.

Globke is charged before the East German court with complicity in the persecution and murder of the Jews by the Nazis.

Landau recalled that at the trial of Eichmann in Jerusalem, of which Globke was an official, was named as primarily responsible for the extermination of the Jews.

"We see this trial as a continuation of the Eichmann trial, because both accused — in different ways — share the same guilt," said Landau.

Landau was an observer at the Jerusalem trial. Eichmann was convicted and executed 13 months ago.

Accused Scientist Claims He Burned Soviet Documents

LONDON (Reuters) — Italian scientist Giuseppe Martelli, on trial on charges of being a spy for Russia, testified today he destroyed documents left in his car by Russian agents.

After Solicitor-General Sir Peter Rawlinson ended a long cross-examination, Mr. Justice Phillimore asked Martelli about the documents.

The judge asked what happened to the original documents which were left in Martelli's car when he left the British nuclear research centre at Aldermaston. They were instructions about a hiding place and consisted of a typewritten page and an address.

Martelli, 39, said he destroyed them because they were cumbersome to get into his wallet.

"I realize now I should not have done it."

BECAME FRIENDLY
During the trial, now in its sixth day, Martelli has said he became friendly with Russian diplomat and intelligence man Nikolai Karpekov who the prosecution says was "controller" of both Martelli and of convicted spy John Vassall.

Martelli has admitted he met Karpekov and friends of his in Britain, Belgium and Austria. But at no time did he intend to act as a spy or to give any information which might have helped any enemy of Britain.

He said he played the absent-

Washington State City Classed as "Sundowner"

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP)—A Washington state civil rights board has found the city of Kennewick has virtually barred its gates to Negroes and gained a reputation as a "sundown town" where Negroes must leave after dark.

The indictment was made today in a hard-hitting report by the five-member State Board against Discrimination. It was based on a 10-day investigation last May of alleged segregation practices in the Eastern Washington city of 16,344.

The board said undisputed findings showed there is not a single Negro living in Kennewick while 1,300 of them are bottled up in what it called "a district racial ghetto" in nearby East Pasco.

No Negroes were found enrolled in the Kennewick public schools nor employed in the school district, city, Benton County, state or federal offices in Kennewick.

"About six" Negroes were working for private firms in the city.

The board said it was told public men were advised two years ago to stop Negroes at night and ask them what they were doing in Kennewick.

The city councilor who related this information was later criticized at a secret meeting of council, the board said.

WOULDN'T TESTIFY

An official of the Kennewick Housing Authority had refused to testify before the board after being subpoenaed.

As for state action, the board suggested it might be possible to revoke the real estate licenses of firms which restrict Negroes to certain living areas.

The board also urged the state attorney-general to check into the legality of an apparent "gentlemen's agreement" among realtors, lenders and builders in the area to restrict housing to white buyers.

The charge was made by Jack Tanner of Tacoma, northwest president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The board recommended the city establish a human relations commission to administer a civil rights ordinance covering jobs, housing and public services.

It also called for creation of a district advisory council to study race relations; an affirmative policy statement by the real estate industry; and fair hiring practices by the city.

It said city police should be advised against reflecting bias or prejudice on minority groups or speaking in a derogatory manner toward them.

Two Accidents Mar Day For Calgary Stampede

CALGARY (CP)—Two accidents marred the Calgary Stampede Tuesday. Participants some of the dangers of the exciting show.

There were no serious injuries in either incident, the first of which involved a newspaper photographer and the second the crew of a truck-wagon.

Michael Burn, a photographer for the Calgary Herald, was chased by a bucking horse and slammed against a chute. He suffered chest injuries, the extent of which won't be known until x-rays are studied today.

The truck-wagon accident happened in the sixth heat, when the Davis and Sons outfit of Calgary did a spectacular flip over a fallen horse. Driver Ivan Garvey was thrown 15 feet but was not injured.

Stampede officials reported that 86,923 persons paid to enter the gates during the second day of the big show. The attendance brought to 187,176 the total for the two days.

A spirit of uninhibited revelry Tuesday night threw a downtown street into a turmoil as Calgaryans and Stampede visitors let their hair down in an old-fashioned street dance.

Snake and conga lines weaved their way in and out through the throng and square dance enthusiasts had their fill of Western music. Police had no trouble controlling the crowds.

ALUMINUM PORTABLE KITCHEN

Smoke Cooking Is Just Great For Out-Of-Doors Eating

Outdoor eating has something new added—it's smoke-cooking—and it's wonderful! Smoke-cooking, really, is old, simply means cooking in an oven filled with smoke which permeates and flavors the food, new easily done in your patio in a smoke-cooker type outdoor grill.

The one we used is the "all aluminum portable kitchen", but there are others moderately priced and nationally available.

CHARCOAL FIRE. A fire is built in the bottom part with charcoal briquets. Damp hickory chips or green twigs from flavorful wood such as apple are thrown on the fire to give extra flavor to the smoke.

There's a rack to hold the food and a cover that converts the grill into an oven, holding in the smoke and heat. Vents in the bottom-cover regulate the heat—wide open for a very hot fire and partly closed for lower heat.

ALUMINUM PORTABLE. Kitchen smoke-cooks a tasty turkey and baked potatoes for a delicious outdoor supper.

SUNDAY DINNER. OUTDOORS OR IN. Tossed Artichoke-Radish-Lettuce Salad. Home-Smoked Roast Turkey. Sauce Orientale. Foil-Baked Potatoes. Green Beans with Tomatoes. Cheesed-French or Italian Bread. Ice Cream Balls on Brownies. Whipped Topping or Good Old American Apple Pie à la Mode. Hot or Iced Coffee or Tea. Milk.

COOKING A WEEKEND. TURKEY. Select 10 lb. turkey (frozen or fresh). If frozen, thaw according to directions on wrapper. Remove neck, heart and gizzard to boil and use separately.

Rub interior cavities of the bird with 1/2 tsp. each salt and monosodium glutamate. Tie wings and legs to the body. Fasten down the neck skin to the back with small sticks.

Smoke-roast or oven-roast as usual at 350 deg. F., allowing altogether 30 minutes to the lb. Serve with brown sauce made

ANN LANDERS

Ridicule Can Cure The Prevarications

Dear Ann Landers: My heart is in paper napkins and put them away for the young boy who in the bag "for the children" wrote and said he was a chronic liar and that he knew how to stop. The poor kid said he never told lies that would hurt anybody. He just dressed up stories to make himself seem more important or to make his bad dream life seem more glamorous.

I was like that when I was a youngster and I took my parents to a wonderful ceremony. He "cured" me. Perhaps the same technique will work for him. Here it is:

When you hear yourself weaving out of these fabric tales, bring the story to an abrupt end with a ridiculous phrase such as this: "And then I shot myself and died." Smile and add, "Beat that one if you can."

This is an easy way of saying, "It was all in fun and I didn't mean it." EX-PREVARICATOR

Dear Ann Landers: Thank you for the suggestion. It sounds workable and I hope the boy tries it.

Dear Ann Landers: Erma is a dear friend of whom I am extremely fond. The standing joke about her in our crowd is that she was an 11-month baby and has been late ever since.

Erma lives near me. She doesn't drive but I do, so that means I pick her up several times a week. She's one of those disgruntled people who, no matter how far ahead she plans, she can't seem to get herself together on time. I have set out in front of her house for as long as 25 minutes chewing my fingernails. Each time I tell myself I am never going to pick her up again. But she is such a lovely person I can't bring myself to do it.

Last week we arrived at a funeral 20 minutes late. This week we missed the door prize drawings at the Ladies' Aid. I don't remember the last time I heard a meeting called to order. I discussed the problem with my husband last night. He said, "This is one for Ann Landers." I agree with him. Can you help? NO NAILS NANCY

Dear No Nails: Erma is not going to change unless she has to. And she doesn't have to so long as you continue to sit out in front and wait for her.

The day you tell her that you won't stop if she isn't out in front—then DO it—that will be the day when Erma pulls up her socks and gets herself ready on time. Until then—wear mittens.

Dear Ann Landers: I once read in your column that you thought it was perfectly all right for people to take home from restaurants the food they were unable to eat at the table. What do you think of the following?

We attended a beautiful wedding last week. The woman next to us had a large beaded handbag almost the size of a shopping bag. After the dinner was served she wrapped up the rolls and put them in her handbag. She then got herself four pieces of wedding cake, wrapped them in paper napkins and put them away for the young boy who in the bag "for the children" wrote and said he was a chronic liar and that he knew how to stop. The poor kid said he never told lies that would hurt anybody. He just dressed up stories to make himself seem more important or to make his bad dream life seem more glamorous.

Weddings in Spotlight For Enderby Residents

Three weddings have held the spotlight locally this week. Two of the brides are native daughters of Enderby and all are graduates of the Enderby Secondary School.

BAIRD-HELDITCH
Wedding vows were exchanged at a double-bar ceremony in Cour d'Alene, Idaho, June 29, between May Margaretta, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Baird, and Jack Sidney, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Helditch of Ashton Creek.

Rev. Orland Scott officiated at the ceremony and Miss Rosa E. Teal and Mr. Gerald Grimm who were married the same day were attendants.

The bride wore a white boucle suit, white feathered hat with matching accessories and a pink and white carnation corsage. Her only jewelry was a cultured pearl necklace, the gift of the groom.

Upon their return to Enderby the young couple have taken up residence in the Cliffview Apartments.

Several showers and a family reception have been held in their honor.

DREAU-RICHARDS
June 29, her sister Elaine's birthday, was the date chosen for the wedding of Laurel Anne Imbeau of Enderby to William Ernest Richards, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Richards of Victoria.

Summer flowers decorated St. Andrew's United Church for the evening wedding.

Rev. T. O. Mercer officiated. The tall, dark-haired bride made a charming picture as she entered the church on the arm of her father.

Her floor-length gown of nylon lace and net over tulle was fashioned with lily-of-the-valley and fitted bodice, encrusted with sequins and pearls.

Her shoulder-length illusion veil was held by a tiara of pearls and a cascade of pearls and jewels. Her only jewelry was a cultured pearl necklace, the groom's gift and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses and feathered mums.

The bride was attended by her cousin Gail Skyrme of Vancouver who wore a lemon yellow chiffon over tulle sheath in street length.

It featured an overskirt of chiffon, round neckline and three-quarter sleeves and she carried a cascade bouquet of white mums. Her headdress was of yellow flowers and net. Best man was Grant Little of Victoria and others were Ray Imbeau, brother of the bride, and Ted Richards of Victoria, cousin of the groom.

The bride's mother wore a pale blue two-piece dress with white accessories and a pink rose corsage.

The groom's mother wore a rose two-piece dress with white accessories and a white gardenia corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church hall and catered to by the United Church Women.

Rev. C. G. MacKenzie of Sorrento proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded.

Grant Little proposed the toast to the bride.

For going away the bride donned a pale pink knitted suit with white accessories and a white gardenia corsage.

As she departed she presented her bouquet to her grandmother, Mrs. W. Mack.

SCHULTE-ROBITAILLE
Very Rev. Fr. G. Connellan officiated at the wedding June 29 in St. Anne's Catholic Church when Marguerite Cauda of St. Paul, Alta., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Schulte of Enderby, became the bride of Kenneth Robitaille, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robitaille of Mallaig, Alta. Mrs. Robitaille was organist and Mrs. Desnoyer was soloist. The petite and dainty bride made a charming picture as she entered the church on her father's arm.

Her afternoon-length wedding gown was of white embroidered tulle and scalloped neckline.

Her chapel-length veil was confined by a tiara of pearls and she carried a bouquet of deep red roses.

Her bridesmaid was her sister Anita and the flower girl was her niece Wanda Hawryns. Both wore dainty dresses of ice blue tulle with short sleeves, scooped neckline and bell skirts. They wore white pillbox hats and carried bouquets of white daisies.

Raymond Pratch, friend of the groom, was best man and Francis Schulte was usher.

The reception in the Legion Hall was catered by the Catholic Women's League.

Raymond Pratch proposed the toast to the bride and the groom very ably replied.

For her honeymoon to coastal points, the bride wore a turquoise suit with white accessories and white rose corsage.

The bride and groom will make their home at Mallaig, Alberta.

VERNON (Staff) — Nine brothers and sisters of the R. E. Hamilton family of Vernon got together for the first time in 30 years over the weekend with a family reunion at Cedar View Cabins, Mara Lake.

Crosswalk War Rages Along Barnard Avenue

By JIM BELLINGHAY
VERNON (Staff) — The merchants in the 3000 block Barnard Avenue have virtually declared war on city hall and refuse to give up their fight for retention of a mid-block crosswalk.

Three crosswalks all situated between major intersections in the city, were eliminated by council order early Tuesday despite a 28-signature petition asking they be retained.

Drive behind the disposition of the crosswalks was Ald. Eric Palmer. He said he would not necessarily be against them if the city could afford to adequately light and designate them as crosswalks which they were not. He said they were a hazard both to pedestrians and motorists.

Ald. Jack Davis said he favored two of the crosswalks, but "would not mind" seeing the crosswalk near the Capitol Theatre go. He reasoned that with against the traffic commission the extra-long block involved, removal of the crosswalk would aid outlets in this city have only invite jaywalkers. Apparently he was right.

SURVEY TAKEN
A survey taken by Eleanor Down, owner operator of a local beauty salon, and one of the petitioners in favor of a crosswalk, said that between 8 a.m. and 11 noon Tuesday, 84 persons were seen by her jaywalking. (The white lines designating the crosswalks were removed before 8 a.m.)

It was suggested by city hall that vehicular traffic on Barnard could be speeded up by the removal of the crosswalk. Mrs. Down says, "We don't want to speed up traffic on the main street in the three years the crosswalks have been here there hasn't been an accident."

... that's more than the traffic department can say for the four-way intersections."

Mrs. Down, extremely bitter against the traffic commission, said, "License holders of removal of the crosswalk would aid outlets in this city have only invite jaywalkers. Apparently he was right."

ONE DISSENTER
One dissenter of the plan who petitioned for crosswalks, was Laurel Mercer, realtor and past president of the chamber of commerce.

Mr. Mercer maintains that this is part of long range planning and the advisory planning commission recommended the removal of the crosswalks. The city hall while holding the upper hand may not have the final say.

GLOW LIGHTS
Mrs. Down insists that many cities and hamlets in the United States and Canada have similar type crosswalks and are marked quite satisfactorily with rubber tape which glow at night and are visible in day time to motorists.

"If we can't have crosswalks, then let's have a shopping mall," said Mrs. Down. Advisory planning was in favor of a mall and maybe in that time again to bring mall plans out of moth balls and present them to the electorate and merchants involved.

VERNON (Staff) — School District No. 22 will disassociate itself from the findings of a steering committee of the British Columbia School Trustees Association meeting in Kelowna which was reported as stating that each board in the branch apply to the council of public instruction for authority to construct and operate a regional college on the Kelowna site.

By formal resolution the Vernon School Board will meet July 23 by which time "there might be other developments which could alter the current picture."

Trustees F. G. de Wolf said at the monthly meeting of the board Tuesday: "A survey would bring everything up to date. Other trustees have pressed for such a survey which would present all the facts entering into the establishment of a junior college in the Okanagan."

There was some doubt among trustees that the proposed site for a college was not part of Indian reserve land. They said if it was, it could conceivably take months "or even years" to obtain a title.

NOT IN ACCORD
Eleven school boards were represented at the July 5 meeting of the B.C.T.A. and it is known that District No. 22, which takes in Vernon, Coldstream and Lumby, did not agree to the findings at that time.

A formal press release issued by J. W. Green, secretary-treasurer of B.C.T.A. stated that a steering committee of the board went on record as recommending the Kelowna site for a junior college as stated in the March 1963 report. The committee further recommended that each board in the branch apply to the council of public instruction for authority to construct and operate a regional college on the Kelowna site.

VERNON (Staff) — The school board Thursday night agreed it would co-operate to the fullest extent with the 1964 Vernon Winter Carnival. But it could not hold its facilities open until the exact dates are known.

These have been tentatively set for Jan. 24 to Feb. 2, but a bonspiel is also scheduled to start on Feb. 2, and three days must be allowed for ice making. This could affect carnival activities if the civic arena was required at that time.

The Canadian School Trustees Association annual convention will be held in Montreal Sept. 22-25. Local trustees are expected to attend.

Vernon and District Fish, Game and Forest Protective Association expressed thanks to the board of trustees for use of the junior high school lower lunch room for last year's meeting. About 46 boys attended and all passed firearms safety courses.

The court of revision on the list of voters for the school district will be held Sept. 20, with board chairman Mrs. Vera McCulloch, trustees F. G. de Wolf and A. C. Wormull constituting the court.

Trustees gave approval of automatic heat controls in the senior high school. The board was told it would not save fuel costs but it would reduce labor costs to the board.

Tax Changes "Promise" BC Boom

VANCOUVER (CP) — B.C. construction men predicted today that federal budget changes announced by Finance Minister Gordon Mowbray might well produce a minor building boom this year.

They said contractors, particularly those building for companies, will rush to complete jobs before the full 11 per cent federal sales tax becomes effective in 1965.

F. R. B. Charlesworth, president of the Heavy Construction Association of B.C., didn't think it will be a panic boom.

"But I think these things on the fence may decide to make a run for it," he said.

"It's all very much an improvement," he said. "It will give a great spur to building to get it done before the full 11 per cent tax comes on."

John Knudsen, spokesman for the Vancouver Metropolitan House Builders' Association, said gradual imposition of the tax has been urged by his group.

"It is a better way to do it," he said. "It means a builder, if he is going to be hurt, will only get hurt for four per cent instead of 11 per cent."

However, B. M. Hoffmeister, president of the Council of Forest Industries of B.C., said he didn't think gradual imposition of the tax will encourage pulp and paper mill projects left in doubt by the tax.

He said projects of this size cannot be rushed through in the 18 months left before full imposition and consequently will bear the full brunt of the tax.

Leak Report Denied In UK

LONDON (AP) — The British government today denied charges in the U.S. magazine Newsweek that vital American military secrets have been leaked to the Russians by British agents.

"We have received no evidence corresponding to the Newsweek allegations," said a government spokesman today in a foreign office statement at a daily press conference.

Newsweek in its latest issue reported the Central Intelligence Agency and the Federal Bureau of Investigation were both distressed at Britain's recent security performance.

It forecast another looming "spy scandal of megaton proportions" in Britain involving leaks to the Russians of secret information about the U.S. Skybolt missile.

The British government statement continued: "We work close with the Americans on security matters of joint concern and we have no reports from them (the Americans) on the lines mentioned by Newsweek."

The American weekly had claimed that U.S. intelligence men were the first to tip off their British colleagues about the defection of ex-British diplomat Harold (Kimo) Philby and the John Profumo scandal.

"Evidence" Offered In Nazi Case

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany's supreme court today revealed documents uncollected to prove that Dr. Hans Gieseke, chief aide of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, helped the Nazis gain power in 1933.

The prosecution submitted the documents on the second day of an East Berlin show trial. Gieseke is charged with having been a member of a conspiracy to overthrow the Weimar Republic in 1930.

The trial was denounced by the Bonn government Monday as a propaganda stunt aimed at discrediting West Germany. A government spokesman there said the charges had been examined by West German legal authorities and found to be wholly false.

The official East German news agency, APN, said Gieseke was presented before the court as a "traitor to the German people" for alleged participation in the overthrow of the Weimar Republic in 1930.

The prosecutor, Josef Stettin, called Gieseke "the gravedigger of the Weimar Republic." APN said other evidence showed Gieseke had a part in drawing up Nazi legislation compelling Jews to identify themselves by adopting Hebrew first names.

Automotive Output Up

OTTAWA (CP) — Shipments of Canadian-made motor vehicles in May increased 18.9 per cent over the same month last year to a total of 87,700 units, the Bureau of Statistics said today.

This brought shipments in the January-May period to 384,874 units, up 24.1 per cent over the same period of 1967 when 309,707 units were shipped.

Shipments of vehicles imported from the United States in May totaled 90,531 units, down from 1,008 in the same month last year. In the five-month period, U.S. imports totaled 437,431 units compared with 437,148 a year earlier.

Shipments of Canadian-made passenger cars in May totaled 57,233 compared with 49,331 a year earlier. Of these, 33,867 were for sale in Canada and 1,348 were for export. In May, 1967, the totals were 48,072 and 1,279.

Shipments of Canadian-made commercial vehicles rose 19 per cent in May to 10,531 units and in the January-May period they rose 25 per cent to 44,936 units. Shipments for sale in Canada advanced in the month to 9,932 units from 8,416 and in the five-month period to 42,708 from 34,376. Units for export in the five-month period climbed to 2,248 from 1,600.

Financier's Body Found

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police set out today to find the slayer of Marvin L. Gold, twice-convicted financial manipulator whose body was found wrapped in a blood-spotted pink blanket in the trunk of a car. One of his convictions was for using stolen Canadian bonds as collateral.

The body of Gold was discovered Monday night. It was crammed into the trunk of the car parked in a desolate area in suburban Solon. There were two bullet wounds in the right side of his neck, and a green plastic cord was wrapped tightly around his neck.

Coroner Samuel R. Gerber said either the bullets or strangulation could have killed the 32-year-old Gold. He was awaiting a third trial when he disappeared from his plush $70,000 suburban home Friday night.

Dr. Gerber said the small amount of blood indicated Gold "was killed elsewhere, then neatly placed in the car trunk." An autopsy was ordered to determine the cause of death.

ORDERS ARREST

Sheriff James McGrick said he ordered the arrest of Alex Birns, a long-time Cleveland racketeer figure. The sheriff said Birns will be questioned on the basis of information supplied to authorities by Gold's wife, Lily.

Mrs. Gold, who identified her husband, reported him missing early Saturday morning. She said Gold had only $2 and little gasoline when he left to visit Birns.

She said she had given to the FBI the sealed envelopes as her husband had instructed her if he did not return. Federal agents said the envelopes were opened but declined to disclose their contents.

Gold, who climbed up the ladder in a 10-year period, attracted international attention in August, 1961, when he fled from his home and went to Israel with his wife and children. He lived abroad more than a year before returning to Cleveland last October.

He was convicted and sentenced in March of this year to using $55,000 in stolen Canadian bonds as collateral for loans from Cleveland banks. He had appealed the eight-year prison sentence and $20,000 fine.

DINK WALK

Wagner limited Bruce Page hitters to only eight hits and gave up only one walk. He also shared in the winning run with Dan Farris and Gary Wheeler. Each getting a hit for four runs at the plate.

The Legion pounded two Bruce Page pitchers for 10 runs throughout the contest. Dave Barr suffered the loss while Wagner pitched the last out.

HERO OF GAME FLAMBOYANT, BUT MODEST Mays "Played to Win"

CLEVELAND (AP)—"I like to win." That's how Willie Mays explains Willie Mays.

A cup of black coffee in his hand and a silver of him in his mouth, Mays explained in the dressing room how he plays the game after leading the National League to a 5-3 victory over the American League in Tuesday's All-Star game.

"I play the same way all the time," said the flamboyant, but modest Mays. "I play to win."

He also sets records. The fleet, wide-ranging San Francisco Giants center fielder drove in two runs, scored two runs and stole two bases, adding the hero's crown for the day to his entries in the record book.

The steals, his fourth and fifth in All-Star competition, extended his own record while his third inning single tied him with St. Louis' Stan Musial for most hits in the mid-season classic with 20. Mays also has scored the most runs, 15.

U.S. Leading In British Open

LYTHAM AND ST. ANNES, England (CP-AP)—Phil Rodgers of the United States scored the first-round lead in the British open golf championships today with a three-under-par 67, a stroke ahead of English veteran Tom Halburton.

Rodgers, from La Jolla, Calif., was long and straight and his putter worked well as he shot a 32 on the front nine and turned in a fine performance on the back nine with 35 while others were lucky to break 40.

Halburton, after shooting one of the greatest first nine holes in British golf history—a fabulous 29—finished with a 68 in the field of 120 starters.

Rodgers, 25-year-old, former U.S. marine, included three birdies on his card.

He saved his par at the 14th and 15th—only because he putted so well. He sank a 20-footer at the 14th and a nine-footer at the 15th.

"Those were fortunate pars for me," he said. "I was off the fairway on both holes."

Rodgers was 14th in the U.S. money-winning standings when he left home three weeks ago.

Arnold Palmer, the American defending champion picked as the 2-1 favorite to repeat blew to a 33-41—76—nine strokes off the pace.

Halburton, from Westworth, England, shot his five-under-par 29 on the Royal Lytham course, which covers 6,557 yards and has a par 70.

It was the lowest score ever for the first nine holes in the 103 years of the British open golf championships. Knocking off a stroke from the previous best nine-hole score of 30 by Scotland's Eric Brown in 1957.

Playing in overcast weather, while a chilly and brisk sea breeze blew across the rugged course, Halburton fired a 39 on the back nine.

All-Star Tilt "Lacklustre"

CLEVELAND (AP)—It's a tired team, 380 feet to lead in good thing while Mays was there.

Willie Mays was the only player who scored the first run after drawing a second inning walk and striking out against right-hander Earl Wilson. It was Mays' only home run of the game.

But without San Francisco Giants center fielder, the 24th All-Star show would have been a bust.

First of all, only 44,000 paying customers attended the game, about half of Municipal Stadium.

The customers paid $6 and $4 a ticket but didn't see National League stars Sandy Kousser, the season's best pitcher, Warren Spahn, who keeps on defying age and enemy batters, and Juan Marichal, San Francisco's young right-handed star who recently defeated Spahn in a 10-inning 1-0 duel.

What they saw was a lackluster game with routine plays, fair pitching and mediocre fielding. The biggest hit was a double by the American League's Albie Pearson, the hottest All-Star of them all.

The National League scored the tie-breaking run without the aid of a hit, the run crossing when New York Yankee Joe Pepitone chose to make an unassisted out at first instead of throwing to the plate.

STUCK OUT NINE

The National League managed only six hits-four of them scratch-off-five pitchers. The American League had 11 hits, but also five strikeouts, and Bobby Richardson, another Yankee, hit into two double plays. The first double play was a throw by third baseman Frank Malone which led to a run.

The only outstanding defensive play was Tommy Davis' fine throw from medium left field to double Nellie Fox at the plate. It was a good throw but the fans are still wondering why it took Fox so long to sprint the 90 feet from third base. He was caught standing up.

"Nellie got a bad start," third base coach Johnny Pheasant explained.

The biggest noise was the booing when Mays came to bat. The Yankees contingent did little to cover itself with glory. Pepitone, the only American League to go all the way, went 0 for 4 and struck out twice. Richardson hit into four outs in two times at bat. Only Jim Bouton, the young pitcher, did well. He hurled one perfect inning.

Mays got only one hit, a sharp, non-scoring single. But he scored twice, drove in two runs, stole two bases and made the best catch.

BREAKS TIES

It was Mays who scored the first run after drawing a second inning walk and striking out against right-hander Earl Wilson. It was Mays' only home run of the game.

But without San Francisco Giants center fielder, the 24th All-Star show would have been a bust.

First of all, only 44,000 paying customers attended the game, about half of Municipal Stadium.

The customers paid $6 and $4 a ticket but didn't see National League stars Sandy Kousser, the season's best pitcher, Warren Spahn, who keeps on defying age and enemy batters, and Juan Marichal, San Francisco's young right-handed star who recently defeated Spahn in a 10-inning 1-0 duel.

What they saw was a lackluster game with routine plays, fair pitching and mediocre fielding. The biggest hit was a double by the American League's Albie Pearson, the hottest All-Star of them all.

The National League scored the tie-breaking run without the aid of a hit, the run crossing when New York Yankee Joe Pepitone chose to make an unassisted out at first instead of throwing to the plate.

STUCK OUT NINE

The National League managed only six hits-four of them scratch-off-five pitchers. The American League had 11 hits, but also five strikeouts, and Bobby Richardson, another Yankee, hit into two double plays. The first double play was a throw by third baseman Frank Malone which led to a run.

The only outstanding defensive play was Tommy Davis' fine throw from medium left field to double Nellie Fox at the plate. It was a good throw but the fans are still wondering why it took Fox so long to sprint the 90 feet from third base. He was caught standing up.

"Nellie got a bad start," third base coach Johnny Pheasant explained.

The biggest noise was the booing when Mays came to bat. The Yankees contingent did little to cover itself with glory. Pepitone, the only American League to go all the way, went 0 for 4 and struck out twice. Richardson hit into four outs in two times at bat. Only Jim Bouton, the young pitcher, did well. He hurled one perfect inning.

Defence System Set-Up In UK To Undergo Reorganization

LONDON (CP)—Detailed proposals for reorganizing Britain's defence system will be announced today.

The main effect of the proposals is to be introduced in Parliament next fall, is to concentrate the financial and administrative control of the three armed services under one roof—the defence ministry.

The services will remain separate on all but the highest level.

The need for modernizing the military hierarchy is dictated by technical advances and Britain's changing role in the world. While no one disputes this, there is a bitter controversy about how quickly and how far reorganization would go.

Besides the traditional peacetime and war-time planning, the defence ministry will be responsible for a joint committee directed by the defence minister.

This would make the defence ministry responsible for planning, research, strategic thinking, direction of operations, communications, and research.

Views differ. With few exceptions, the advocates of a single integrated service believe that it should be the best. Others believe that the three services should remain separate, but be brought under a single command.

The defence ministry will be responsible for a joint committee directed by the defence minister. This would make the defence ministry responsible for planning, research, strategic thinking, direction of operations, communications, and research.

Open lead—nine of spades.
Here is an odd hand from a rubber bridge game. East didn't quite have his values for a double, but thought that if he could get West to lead a spade, which the double called for, he might beat the contract.

West dutifully led the nine of spades. Declarer, realizing the spades were banded against him, played low from dummy, and after East followed with the seven, also played low from his own hand.

West continued with the three. South went up with the king and led a club and double-fine.

West shifted to the jack of diamonds, which head, and continued with the ten, which also head. South had ducked. Both diamonds because he was away from the double that East had the king, and he hoped East might have been dealt the K. Ace.

West then led the nine of diamonds, bringing forth the king and ace and establishing the seven as a trick. Declarer now entered dummy with a heart and led a club and finessed the queen. When he then cashed the ace of clubs, this became the position.

South now cashed the seven of diamonds and discarded a heart from dummy, thus putting East in a hopeless square position. He could not spare a spade, which would permit South to cash the ace of spades and win the remaining tricks, so he discarded a heart instead. This didn't help either, since South now played a heart to the ace and made the last two tricks with the ace of spades and jack of hearts.

Oddly enough, West had taken four tricks, while East, who had doubled, took none!

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW
This day's aspects should prove helpful to all well-managed endeavors—particularly those requiring initiative and enterprise. It will also be a fine period for thinking of the future and making long-range plans.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope shows fine prospects. There is practically no phase of your life which will not be governed by generous aspects during the coming twelve months. From the beginning of August—with the exception of a brief period in October—there will be special emphasis on the successful outcome of business, property and financial ventures during the year ahead, and your personal life is favored, too.

As an example, if romance is on your mind, look forward to happy developments in September and December of this year; in January, May and June of next. Travel will be favored between now and September 1st; also in November. With the exception of brief periods in late July and early October, domestic interests should prove exceptionally pleasing. Late September and early November will prove highly inspiring to all who are engaged in creative work. A child born on this day will be dependable and home-loving; could succeed as an interior decorator.

Socreds In Bid To Create Fresh Image For Public

OTTAWA (CP)—Creation of a new public image and adoption of a new party name are under discussion within the Social Credit party, it was learned recently Wednesday.

Proposals for these steps were understood to have been discussed at last week's national council meeting here, based partly on the view that Social Credit's current Quebec strength gives an unbalanced picture of the party outside Quebec.

Part of the rebranding program would include entrance of the party's Quebec wing, Le Ralliement des Creditistes, into the provincial political arena.

It is understood that National Leader Robert Thompson favors broadening the party's scope and appeal without departing from its present basic principles.

HAMPERED APPEAL In this connection, it was suggested to the council that the candidates in Quebec provincial elections. Statements placed before the council suggested that in a provincial election the Social Credit party would provide an outlet for those in Quebec dissatisfied with current political parties but not interested in a socialist party.

It was argued such a step would lead to a party which would be the Quebec nationalist which party strategists argue, has overshadowed the party on the federal scene.

At the same time, the council reaffirmed a support of Mr. Thompson as national leader and as spokesman on policy.

The council was told that the party cannot gain the co-operation of the voter if the national leader is allowed to remain in the leadership.

Entry of Le Ralliement into provincial politics, apparently, was considered an important factor in shaping the party's new national image. Le Ralliement has not previously entered the party's Quebec wing, Le Ralliement des Creditistes, into the provincial political arena.
